RISK FACTORS

Investing in the Bonds involves inherent risks. A number of risk factors and uncertainties may adversely affect the Issuer and its subsidiaries (the "Group"). If any of these risks or uncertainties actually occurs, the business, operating results and financial position of the Group could be materially and adversely affected, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's ability to meet its obligations (including payment of interest and repayment of principal) under the terms and conditions of the Bonds (the "Terms and Conditions"). In this section, a number of risk factors are illustrated, both general risks pertaining to the Group's business operations and risks relating to the Bonds as financial instruments. The risks presented herein are not exhaustive, and other risks not discussed herein, not currently known or not currently considered to be material, may also affect the Group's future operations, performance and financial position, and consequently the Group's ability to meet its obligations under the Terms and Conditions. Potential investors should consider carefully the information contained in this investor material and make an independent evaluation before making an investment in the Bonds.

The risk factors below are not ranked in any specific order.

RISKS RELATING TO THE MARKET, THE INDUSTRY AND THE ISSUER

The Group is affected by macroeconomic factors, general market conditions and the level of economic activity in Europe

There is a risk that an adverse change in economic conditions in Europe, and/or a decline in the GDP of one of the countries or on one of the markets in which the Group operates, or on the market in any other country which, in turn, affects the countries or markets in which the Group operates, would have an effect on the Group's business. There is a risk that several factors would have an adverse effect on the general conditions on the markets and reduce economic activity in Europe, including a decline in the rate of employment, confidence of consumers and businesses in the future, unemployment, household disposable income, household debt, house prices, currency markets, inflation, counter-party risk, the availability of loans and cost of borrowing, liquidity on the financial markets, and market interest rates. There is a risk that poorer market conditions and a decline in economic activity would reduce the demand for the Group's products and services and adversely affect the earnings that the Group will achieve on its products and lead to reduced volumes of credit issued. Further, there is a risk that reduced revenue and increased levels of impairment charges would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

The Group is exposed to various types of credit risks

The Group's main credit and counterparty risk is that the customers cannot service their debt. The Group is exposed to risks associated with the uncontrolled deterioration in the credit quality of its customers which may be driven by, for example, socio-economic or customer-specific factors linked to economic performance. Declining credit quality and increased impairment levels impact profitability and would ultimately have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

The Group can be affected by a simultaneous withdrawal of savings deposits

The Group relies on customer deposits as its main source of liquidity and as the primary resource by which it is able to offer its loans to retail customers. Although the savings accounts offered to customers by the Group are protected under the deposit protection program in Sweden, and thus guaranteed by the Swedish government, there is a risk that negative publicity regarding the Group or its industry, a deterioration of general economic conditions or governmental budget discipline in Sweden or other outside events beyond the Group's control would cause a mass withdrawal event in the future. No limits are applied on customers' withdrawals of deposited money. Additionally, the Group may fail to attract enough customers for its savings accounts in the future for a variety of reasons which would limit its growth of loans to the public. If a withdrawal event were to occur or if the Group fails to increase its deposit volume in line with the growth in loans to the public, there is a risk that it would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

The Group is exposed to liquidity risk

The Group operates in capital intensive business sectors, and loans provided to consumers are paid out in cash. This requires sufficient liquidity management and that the Group has cash available prior to a loan being granted.

The Issuer is almost entirely funded through deposits from the public in Sweden and Norway. The risks in the supply of liquidity consist primarily of the risk of the Issuer not attracting sufficient volume of deposits. The risk may arise in a situation where net withdrawals are larger than desired or when increased deposit volumes are desired in order to finance further lending and other payments. Increased net withdrawals may result from price competition or negative rumours about the Issuer, banks or the financial system in general. The Group is also dependent on the main owners' ability to inject needed capital. There is a risk that the Group fails to attract a sufficient volume of deposits or to improve the liquidity situation through asset sales or through injection of capital by main owners which would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Political risks

The Group is mainly present in the Swedish, Norwegian and Finnish markets, meaning that the Group is being subject to external risks, such as political risks in individual countries and regions. Should the customers' investment patterns materially change, due to an economic or political situation in a country, there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings, financial position and results of operations.

Risk Management

Offering financial products and services involves taking calculated risks. The risks related to these products and services are taken deliberately and shall be reflected in, and covered by, the prices and interest rates offered to the customers. Significant risks that the Group is exposed to are credit and counterparty risk, market risk, strategic risk, risks relating to disruptions in the global credit markets and economy, liquidity risk, operational risk, regulatory risk and competition and business risks. There is a risk that the Group has not implemented appropriate systems and controls to mitigate such risks and investors should be aware that there is a risk of failure to control such risks which would have an adverse impact on the performance and reputation of the business and ultimately, the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Competition on current market

The Group currently has a large number of competitors in the market. There is a risk that existing and new competitors on the market will grow stronger and that an increase in competition will lead to increased costs with regards to seeking out new customers, as well as retaining current customers.

The Group's competitors consist of both large, well-established, financially strong companies and smaller niche companies that are particularly competitive within certain groups of products/services. There is a risk that some of the competitors will have or develop competitive advantages over the Group, such as the ability to offer a wider range of services to customers, a higher degree of specialisation, the ability to adjust prices and interest rates based on demand, or a larger local focus, and more substantial financial, marketing and other resources than the Group currently has. Furthermore, any increase in the volume of financial regulations could lead to increased costs for regulatory compliance which in turn could result in greater consolidation of the industry. The Group's possibility to compete also depends upon the Group's ability to anticipate future market changes and trends and to rapidly react on existing and future market needs. If the Group fails to meet the competition from new and existing companies or fails to react to market changes or trends, there is a risk that this will have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings or financial position.

Money laundering and fraudulent behaviour

The Group handles a large number of payments within the ordinary course of business, and is therefore exposed to risks relating to money laundering and fraud. Should the Group fail to detect money laundering or fraudulent activities, there is a risk that the Group will be obliged to refund the transaction. There is a risk that such refunds, or similar payments, will lead to increased costs that will not be covered by the Group's insurance, which would have an adverse effect on the Group's earnings and financial position. Further, if the Group fails to detect money laundering activities there is a risk that it will lead to fines and sanctions imposed by authorities, or even licenses being revoked, which would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Dependency on loan brokers

A considerable part of the Group's customers are currently directed to it from external third party sources, primarily loan brokers or providers of interest rate comparison services. Should such external parties, for any reason, cease to cooperate with the Group or the Group is unable to develop further relationships with its loan brokers and the Group will fail to replace such loan broker, or loan brokers significantly increases their fees for their services, there is a risk that this would adversely affect the inflow of new customers to the Group or the use of external third party sources, which would subsequently have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Harm to the Group's reputation

There is a risk that the Group's employees or external consultant have failed or are accused of failing to perform their work correctly which would damage the Group's reputation. Further, there is a risk that mismanagement or misconduct by the Group's employees or consultants would result in supervisory authorities claiming or establishing (based on such mismanagement or misconduct) that the Group has failed to implement satisfactory supervisory systems and procedures to inform employees or consultants about applicable rules, or to detect and manage infringements of such rules. As a result, there is a risk that adverse regulatory measures would be imposed on the Group, including fines and other sanctions.

If the Group's reputation is damaged due to any of the aforesaid, there is a risk that this would adversely affect the Group's ability to attract new customers, retain existing customers, maintain relationships with external parties, and obtain financing, which would subsequently have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

There is also a risk that established or alleged misconduct by other operators in the financial services market would have an adverse effect on the reputation of the market in which the Group operates.

Negative publicity

The Group relies on its brands to maintain and attract new customers and employees. Any negative publicity or announcement relating to the Group may, whether or not it is justifiable, deteriorate the brand value and have an adverse effect on the inflow of deposits, net sales, earnings and financial position.

Dependency on key employees

The Group's performance and future growth are dependent on the work that is performed, and the knowledge, expertise and commitment possessed, by the Group's employees and key individuals at management level. The ability for the Group to continue to compete effectively and develop new areas is dependent on its ability to attract new employees and retain and motivate existing employees. There is a risk that such key personnel will leave the Group in the future, or that they will take up employment with a competing business. Further, there is a risk that the Group will not be able to recruit new, sufficiently capable personnel to the extent that the Group wishes. If the Group fails to keep, replace or recruit new key personnel, there is a risk that the Group loses key individuals which would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings and financial position.

The Group is exposed to operational risks

All operational activities are associated with the risk that losses will be incurred due to deficient procedures and/or irregularities or internal or external events causing disruptions or harm to the business. IT systems are an important component of the Group's business. The Group's business depends on its ability to process transactions efficiently and accurately, and on collecting intelligence on customer profiles for its sourcing models. The Group is affected by certain factors to maintain and develop business intelligence systems (including lending models), to run its internet bank, to maintain financial and operating controls, to monitor and manage its risk exposures, to keep accurate records, to provide high-quality customer service and to develop and sell profitable products and services in the future. Such factors are the success of its business continuity planning, the uninterrupted and efficient operation of its information and communications systems, including its information technology, and the successful development and implementation of new systems. However, there is a risk that losses will occur from inadequate or failed internal control processes and protection systems, human error, fraud or external events that interrupt business operations. There is a risk that this will result in a loss of data and a failure to provide quality services to customers.

If any of the above risks materialises, the interruption or failure of the Group's information technology and other systems would impair the Group's ability to provide its services effectively and this would adversely affect the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Insurance cover

The Group is exposed to various types of risks, such as business interruption and political or economic risks, including events caused by natural disasters and other events beyond the Group's control. There is a risk that the scope of the Group's insurance coverage will not cover all risks that materialise within the Group's business, for example in connection with the loan protection offered to customers or credit risks taken by the Group, resulting in the total amount of the Group's losses not being compensated by the Group's insurances in case of damages and instead compensated by own funds.

Further, certain types of losses are not possible to insure and will, thus, not be covered by the Group's insurances. If the Group's insurance coverage proves to be insufficient it will have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings or financial position.

Risks related to the Group's business model and credit rating process

The Group has internal credit approval policies in place and apply several credit scoring models to ensure that the desired risk profile of the loan portfolio is maintained. There is a risk that the projections obtained using such models will prove inaccurate or that the Group will deviate from the models and credit approval policies when granting consumer credits, which would lead to an increased risk profile and declining credit quality of the portfolio.

There is a risk that declining credit quality and increased impairment levels will impact profitability and ultimately have an adverse effect on the Group's business, results of operations and financial condition and the Issuer's ability to fulfil its payment obligations under the Bonds.

Risks related to accounting policies

The Group is affected by the accounting rules applicable from time to time in the jurisdictions in which the Group operates, such as IFRS and other international accounting rules. This means that in future, the Group's accounting, financial reporting and internal control may be affected by, and need to adapt to, changes in accounting rules or changes in the application of such accounting rules. The Group may need to change its operations as a result of new accounting principles. This may entail uncertainty related to the Group's accounting, financial reporting and internal control and could also affect the Group's reported earnings, balance sheet and equity, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

IFRS 9, which is a new accounting standard in respect of financial instruments, has replaced IAS 39 and was implemented on 1 January 2018. IFRS 9 comprises classification and valuation, depreciation and hedge accounting related to financial instruments. The new calculation model for deposition of reserves for anticipated credit losses have had and may also in the future have material impact on the Group's accounting, and requires system support as well as additional assessment for determination of recovery value.

The Group's business is dependent on licenses to conduct its business

The Company has been granted a license by Swedish financial supervisory authority (the "SFSA") which authorises the Company to provide customer with credit and to borrow funds from the public (Sw. Kreditmarknadsbolag).

The SFSA conducts full supervision of the Company and may do both off and on-site inspections and has the power to require the production of and to obtain access to all records, documents or information. The SFSA enforces compliance and can impose sanctions for failure to comply with or properly implement legal requirements. The SFSA has a wide range of administrative sanctions available to it, including an official remark or warning in connection with a punitive fine and the ability to remove a board member or managing director (but not other senior management) of a company. The SFSA can also withdraw a company's license for a variety of reasons including, but not limited to, non-compliance with existing or failure to implement new regulatory requirements. Criminal sanctions can apply for failure to comply with market abuse regulations or for tipping off a company under SFSA authority as to a potential or actual investigation.

The Group is dependent on its license with the SFSA. If the Group fails to maintain or renew the license with SFSA, there is a risk that the business and operation in the Group would cease. There is also a risk that other administrative sanctions imposed by the SFSA would cause significant reputational risk, which would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risk relating to changes in legislation

The Group is subject to various laws, regulatory requirements and general guidelines in the countries in which it operates. Changes to local legislation require the Group's respective local branches to adapt operations to ensure compliance with such changes. There is a risk that failure to timely implement procedures or take comprehensive measures to comply with new regulations will have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, or results of operations.

Applicable rules and regulations are undergoing significant changes and have generally been tightened since the 2008 financial crisis. For example, MiFID II, the so-called Fifth Anti-Money Laundering Directive and PSD 2 have been or are currently in the process of being implemented into national legislation. Further, new legislation on consumer lending is being proposed or is in the process of being implemented in the Nordics. Sweden has introduced new legislation on protection for consumers borrowing monies on short term loans with high interests that entered into force in September 2018. Norway has implemented measures aiming to restrict consumer lending in May 2019 with additional legislation entering into force in July 2019. Finland has adopted new legislation on maximum interest which will enter into force September 2019. There is a risk that the Group will be exposed to risks that would arise as a result of uncertainty concerning regulatory changes. This includes the risk that the conditions for the Group's business would change due to changes in the interpretation of existing rules, the implementation of new rules and regulations, or other regulatory changes. The Group is also affected by the extent to which rules and regulations vary between the jurisdictions in which the Group conducts business. In addition, there is a risk that demand from customers for the Group's services and products will be affected by developments and changes in the regulatory environment, including the interpretation, application and enforcement of applicable rules and regulations by supervisory authorities, which would also result in adverse publicity for the Group or the industry as a whole.

Furthermore, internal governance and control costs could increase, including the control of regulatory compliance, due to increasingly more extensive rules and regulations. If fundamental conditions for the Group's business were to change or if the regulatory environment were to change or develop, this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Capital adequacy and liquidity requirements

The Group is subject to extensive rules and regulations relating to capital adequacy and liquidity requirements, which are primarily governed by the package of rules and regulations comprising CRD IV and CRR (and delegated and implementing acts issued thereunder), which collectively implement and modify the Basel III Accord within the European Union (jointly the "Basel III Rules"). The Basel III Rules contain certain capital adequacy requirements that are intended to be changeable over time and, among other things, dependent on the existence of cyclical and structural system risks. The Group is required at all times to comply with the specified capital adequacy and liquidity ratios, and have access to sufficient capital and liquidity. If the authorities considers it necessary, the authorities could also impose higher capital adequacy requirements on the Group. Consequently, the Group is exposed to the risk of changes to applicable capital adequacy and liquidity rules, changes in authorities' assessment of the operations in relation to the statutory requirements, and the introduction of new rules and regulations. There is also a risk that relevant public authorities could take the view that the Group is not in full compliance with the requirements imposed in applicable rules and regulations or that the Group is in breach of these rules and regulations.

The Group is also exposed to the risk that the business will develop in a manner that could lead to a decline in its revenues, which could affect the Group's capital coverage. A shortage of capital, or the market's view that there is a shortage of capital, could result in requirements being imposed by public authorities to acquire additional capital, to carry profits forward, or to freeze outgoing payments. The Group may need to require additional capital by, for example, issuing new shares or other securities or having recourse to shareholders' equity intended for the business, which would affect its development and growth. If any of the risks referred to above were to be realized, this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Processing of personal data

The Group registers, processes, stores and uses personal data in the ordinary course of its business on servers utilised by the Group. The ability for the Group to collect, retain, share and otherwise process information about customers is governed by personal data legislation, confidentiality requirements and other regulatory restrictions. There is a risk that the Group's security procedures concerning the personal data of customers, and other procedures for protecting personal data, are insufficient for preventing the disclosure or processing of personal data contrary to applicable legislation or agreements, and that IT system failures or defects would lead to the loss of customers' personal data or other information. If it is considered that the Group's policies, processes or systems are not in compliance, or are considered to have previously not been in compliance, with applicable personal data processing legislation and rules and regulations, there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

In May 2018 a new General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") issued by the EU entered into force. Data processing in breach of the GDPR could result in fines amounting to a maximum of EUR 20,000,000 or 4 per cent. of the Group's global turnover. If the Group fails to comply with GDPR there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and result of operation.

Risks related to IT infrastructure

The Group depends on information technology and uses its information technology systems to manage critical business processes but also to manage its business in general. The Group uses its IT-systems for administrative purposes and in relation to services offered to customers. There is a risk that extensive downtime of network servers, attacks by IT-viruses or other disruptions or failure of information technology systems would have a negative impact on the Group's operations. There is a risk that failure of the Group's information technology systems would cause transaction errors and loss of customers, and would have negative consequences for the Group, its employees, and those with whom the Group does business. Additionally, there is a risk that these types of problems will result in leaks of confidential customer information which would result in damages to the Group's reputation and/or litigation which in turn would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and result of operation.

Intellectual property rights

The Group is actively working to protect its brands, names and domain names in the jurisdictions in which the Group operates. If the Group's protection of its trademarks and names is insufficient or if the Group does infringe on third party intellectual property rights, there is a risk that this will result in an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and result of operation.

Competition authorities

To the Group's knowledge, it is not, and has not been, subject to any investigation by any competition authority. However, in the future, the Group could be subject such investigations and if such investigations are initiated, there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the business carried out by the Group.

Tax risks

The Group conducts business and is subject to taxation in a number of countries with different fiscal rules and regulations. There is a risk that the Group's interpretation and application of applicable legislation, tax treaties and rules, as well as case law of the courts and tax authorities, is incorrect or changes, potentially with retroactive effect. The Group's tax situation could change based on decisions from relevant public authorities and there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations. Tax authorities could have a different opinion to that of the Group, particularly with respect to transactions between Group companies in different countries (referred to as "transfer pricing issues") or, for example, concerning the application of the VAT exemption in the finance sector. There is a risk that introduction of new taxes and/or changes to existing tax legislation applicable to the Group's business would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Disputes and litigations

The Group is currently not involved in any material disputes. However, there is a risk that the Group will become involved in disputes or subject to other litigation in the future. If so, there is a risk that eventual negative outcomes of such disputes or even negative publicity in connection therewith will have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings or financial position.

Refinancing risk

The Group may eventually be required to refinance certain or all of its outstanding debt, including the Bonds. The Group's ability to successfully refinance its debt depends, among other things, on the conditions of the bank market, the capital markets and the Group's own financial condition at such time. There is a risk that the Group's access to financing sources will not be available on favourable terms or at all. If this risk materialises, it would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, operations, earnings and results and on the prospects of recovery by the bondholders under the Bonds.

Borrowing by the Group and interest risk

The Group has incurred, and may incur further financial indebtedness to finance its business operations. Such financing may generate interest costs which may be higher than the gains produced by the investments made by the Group. Borrowing money to make investments will increase the Group's exposure to the loss of capital and higher interest expenses. Further, the Group is exposed to changes in interest rates through its financing agreements that carry floating rates of interest. The interest rates are affected by a number of factors that are beyond the control of the Group, including but not limited to the interest rate policies of governments and central banks. There is a risk that an increase in interest rates would entail an increase in the Group's interest obligations, which would have an adverse effect on the Groups' operations, financial position, earnings and results.

Currency risk

The Group conducts business in a number of countries and is therefore exposed to currency risks arising from exposures to different currencies. The Group is exposed to currency risks when fluctuations occur between the Issuer's accounting currency (which is SEK) and foreign currencies used in conjunction with business transactions, reported assets and liabilities, and net investments in respect of foreign operations (known as transaction risk). The Group has foreign currency hedging in place covering certain exposures.

At Group level, foreign currency translation differences could arise when the income statements and balance sheets of foreign subsidiaries are consolidated (known as translation risk). The Group's employed capital is financed by way of loans in local currency and shareholders' equity. This means that, from a Group perspective, the Group has equity in foreign currencies which is exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, even if the value has not changed in the original currency.

If measures taken by the Group to hedge and otherwise manage the effects of exchange rate fluctuations prove to be insufficient, there is a risk that this would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

Risk relating to agreements with debt collectors and partners

The Group is currently collaborating with debt collectors and/or partners to sell off debt in connection with the Group's consumer lending. Certain receivables that are distressed are sold to debt purchasing companies. Hence, the extent to which the Group is affected by credit losses depends on its ability to sell its receivables on appropriate terms. If the Group is unable to sell off debt on appropriate terms it would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings and financial position

If the debt collectors and/or partners which the Group collaborate with, for any reason, cease to cooperate with the Group and the Group fail to replace such debt collector/partner, it would have an adverse effect on the Group's business, earnings and financial position.

Risks related to receivables sold

The Group takes on credit risks on some of the loans which are sold/transferred to debt collectors and/or partners on recourse basis, meaning that if full repayment is not received by a debtor there is a risk that such receivables can be put back on the Group's balance sheet and the Group takes the credit risk.

The Group further sells/transfers some of the loans on non-recourse basis. These receivables are put on the relevant debt collector's and/or partner's balance sheet, but there is a risk that such receivables are put on the relevant debt collector's and/or partner's balance sheet based on incorrect assessments. Therefore, there is a risk that the Group takes larger credit risks than what the balance sheet initially show in such cases. Further, as the Group may apply for a banking license within the future, there is a risk that the Group will take larger credit risks.

RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE BONDS

Bondholders are subject to credit risks towards the Issuer

Investors in the Bonds carry a credit risk relating to the Issuer. The investors' ability to receive payment under the Bonds is therefore dependent on the Issuer's ability to meet its payment obligations, which in turn is largely dependent upon the performance of the Issuer's operations and its financial position. The Issuer's financial position is affected by several factors of which some have been mentioned above.

An increased credit risk may cause the market to charge the Bonds a higher risk premium, which would affect the Bonds' value negatively. Another aspect of the credit risk is that a deteriorating financial position of the Issuer may reduce the Issuer's possibility to receive debt financing at the time of the maturity of the Bonds.

Liquidity risk

Active trading in the Bonds does not always occur. Hence, there is a risk that a liquid market for trading in the Bonds will not occur, or be maintained. This may result in that the bondholders cannot sell their Bonds when desired or at a price level which allows for a profit comparable to similar investments with an active and functioning secondary market. Lack of liquidity in the market may have a negative impact on the market value of the Bonds.

It should also be noted that during any given time period it may be difficult or impossible to sell the Bonds (at all or at reasonable terms) due to, for example, severe price fluctuations, close down of the relevant market or trade restrictions imposed on the market.

The market price of the Bonds may be volatile

The market price of the Bonds could be subject to significant fluctuations in response to actual, expected or anticipated variations in the Issuer's operating results and those of its competitors, adverse business developments, changes to the regulatory environment in which the Issuer operates, changes in financial estimates by securities analysts and the actual or expected sale of a large number of Bonds, as well as other factors. In addition, the global financial markets have experienced significant price and volume fluctuations in recent years, which, if repeated in the future, could adversely affect the market price of the Bonds without regard to the Issuer's operating results, financial condition or prospects.

Change of law

The Terms and Conditions are based on Swedish law in effect as at the date of issue of the Bonds. Should any possible judicial decision or change to Swedish law or administrative practice occur, there is a risk that the bondholders are negatively affected.

The Issuer's obligations under the Bonds are deeply subordinated

The rights of the bondholders will, in the event of the liquidation (Sw. likvidation) or bankruptcy (Sw. konkurs) of the Issuer, be subordinated in right of payment to the claims of depositors and other unsubordinated and subordinated creditors of the Issuer.

The Bonds rank junior to, inter alia, the Issuer's medium term notes and commercial papers issued from time to time. The Issuer may also issue other debt obligations or capital instruments that rank or are expressed to rank senior to the Bonds, in each case as regards the right to receive periodic payments on a liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer and the right to receive repayment of capital on a liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer.

In the event of a liquidation of the Issuer, the Issuer will be required to pay its depositors and its unsubordinated creditors in full before it can make any payments on the Bonds. If this occurs, the Issuer may not have enough assets remaining after these payments are made to pay amounts due under the Bonds. In addition, the BRRD and the Swedish Resolution Act, could mean that an investment in the Issuer's regulatory capital instruments as additional tier 1 capital runs the risk that the Issuer's debt under those instruments will be written off (bail-in), rescheduled or further subordinated (for instance, by the swapping of debt to equity).

Redemption of the Bonds upon on the occurrence of a capital event or a tax event

The Issuer may upon the occurrence of a Capital Event or a Tax Event (each as defined in the Terms and Conditions for the Bonds), at its option, but in each case subject to obtaining the prior consent of the SFSA, redeem all, but not some only, of the Bonds at par together with accrued interest.

If the Bonds would be redeemed following a Capital Event or a Tax Event, there is a risk that the bondholders will not be able to reinvest the amounts received upon redemption at a rate that will provide the same rate of return as their investments in the Bonds.

There are limited acceleration events in relation to the Bonds

The holders of the Bonds may only accelerate the Bonds upon the liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer. No payments will be made to the holders of the Bonds before all amounts due, but unpaid, to all other creditors of the Issuer ranking ahead of the holders of the Bonds have been paid by the Issuer, as ascertained by the judicial liquidator (Sw. likvidator) or bankruptcy administrator (Sw. konkursförvaraltare).

Interest rate risks

The Bonds bear interest at a floating rate. Bondholders should be aware that the floating rate interest income is subject to changes to the STIBOR rate (with no zero floor) and therefore cannot be anticipated. Hence, bondholders are not able to determine a definite yield of the Bonds at the time of purchase, so that their return on investment cannot be compared with that of investments in simple fixed rate (i.e. fixed rate coupons only) instruments.

In addition, bondholders are exposed to reinvestment risk with respect to proceeds from coupon payments or redemptions by the Issuer. If the market yield declines, and if bondholder want to invest such proceeds in comparable transactions, bondholders will only be able to reinvest such proceeds in comparable transactions at the then prevailing lower market yields.

Call options are subject to the prior consent of the SFSA

The Issuer has the option to redeem the Bonds as from the first call date, being the interest payment date falling on or nearest to five (5) years after the issue date of the Bonds. If the Issuer considers it favorable to exercise such a call option, the Issuer must obtain the prior consent of the SFSA.

The bondholders have no rights to call for the redemption of the Bonds and should not invest in the Bonds in the expectation that such a call will be exercised by the Issuer. The SFSA must agree to permit such a call, based upon its evaluation of the regulatory capital position of the Issuer and certain other factors at the relevant time. There is a risk that the SFSA will not permit such a call or that the Issuer will not exercise such a call. The bondholders should be aware that they may be required to bear the financial risks of an investment in the Bonds for a period of time in excess of the minimum period.

The Issuer may cancel interest payments on Bonds at its discretion for any reason, and will be required to cancel interest payments in certain cases

Any payment of interest in respect of the Bonds shall be payable only out of the Issuer's Distributable Items (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds). Interest payments may be cancelled by the Issuer, at any time, in whole or in part, at the option of the Issuer in its sole discretion; or will be mandatorily cancelled to the extent so required by the applicable capital regulations.

The Issuer's Distributable Items will depend to a large extent on the net income earned by the Issuer. The Issuer is entitled to cancel payments of interest in its sole discretion and it is permitted to do so even if it could make such payments without exceeding any maximum distribution limits set out in the applicable capital regulations. Payments of interest on the Bonds may be cancelled even if holders of the Issuer's shares continue to receive dividends.

Following any cancellation of interest, the right of the holders of the Bonds to receive accrued interest in respect of any such interest period will terminate and the Issuer will have no further obligation to pay such interest or to pay interest thereon, whether or not payments of interest in respect of subsequent interest periods are made, and such unpaid interest will not be deemed to have "accrued" or been earned for any purpose nor will the non-payment of such interest constitute an acceleration event.

Any actual or anticipated cancellation of interest payments will likely have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds. In addition, as a result of the interest cancellation provision of the Bonds, the market price of the Bonds may be more volatile than the market prices of other debt securities on which interest accrues that are not subject to such cancellation and may be more sensitive generally to adverse changes in the Issuer's financial condition.

Loss absorption following a Trigger Event

The principal amount of the Bonds may be written down to absorb losses

The Bonds were issued for regulatory capital adequacy purposes with the intention and purpose of being eligible as Additional Tier 1 Capital of the Issuer. Such eligibility depends upon a number of conditions being satisfied, which are reflected in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds and which, in particular, require the Bonds and the proceeds of their issue to be available to absorb any losses of the Issuer.

Accordingly, if at any time the CET1 ratio (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds) of the Issuer has fallen below 5.125 per cent. in the case of the Issuer, or 7.00 per cent., in the case of the Issuer Consolidated Situation (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds), (a "Trigger Event"), the nominal amount or payment obligation of the Bonds shall be written down as described in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

The Issuer and/or the SFSA may determine that a Trigger Event has occurred on more than one occasion and the nominal amount of each Bond may be reduced on more than one occasion.

Bondholders may lose all or some of their investment as a result of any such write-down to the nominal amount or payment obligation. Any such write-down shall not constitute an acceleration event and, following such write-down, the bondholders' claims in respect of principal will, in all cases (including following a redemption of the Bonds upon a Capital Event or a Tax Event (each as defined in the Terms and Conditions for the Bonds) or upon bankruptcy or liquidation), be based on the reduced nominal amount or payment obligation of the Bonds to the extent the nominal amount or payment obligation, in the sole discretion of the Issuer, has not subsequently been reinstated as described in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

In addition, following a write-down of the Bonds as described above, interest can only continue to accrue on the reduced nominal amount or payment obligation following such write-down, which will be lower than the original nominal amount or payment obligation of the Bonds.

The market price of the Bonds is expected to be affected by fluctuations in the CET1 ratio of the Issuer. Any indication that the CET1 ratio of the Issuer is trending towards 5.125 per cent. in the case of the Issuer, or 7.00 per cent., in the case of the Issuer Consolidated Situation may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds. The level of the CET1 ratio of the Issuer and the Issuer consolidated Situation may significantly affect the trading price of the Bonds.

The CET1 ratio shall be calculated by the Issuer and shall be binding on the bondholders

For the purposes of determining whether a Trigger Event has occurred and if a write-down of the Bonds is required, the Issuer must (and the Swedish FSA, or any agent appointed for such purpose by the Swedish FSA, may) calculate the CET1 ratio of the Issuer or the Issuer Consolidated Situation, as the case may be, based on information (whether or not published) available to management of the Issuer, including information internally reported within the Issuer pursuant to its procedures for ensuring effective ongoing monitoring of the capital ratios of the Issuer and the Issuer Consolidated Situation. The Issuer will calculate and publish the relevant CET1 ratio on at least a quarterly basis.

The Issuer's and/or the Swedish FSA's calculation of the CET1 ratios of the Issuer and the Issuer Consolidated Situation, and therefore its determination of whether a Trigger Event has occurred, shall be binding on the bondholders, who shall have no right to challenge the published figures detailing the CET1 ratios of the Issuer or the Issuer Consolidated Situation, as the case may be.

Any write-up of the Bonds is at the sole and absolute discretion of the Issuer and may require shareholder approval

Following any write-down of the Bonds, the Issuer may, but is not in any circumstances obliged to, reinstate the nominal amount. Any reinstatement can only be made out of distributable reserves of the Issuer and will thus need a shareholders' decision, which may or may not be given.

The Issuer's interests may not be aligned with those of investors in the Bonds

The CET1 ratio and Distributable Items and any relevant maximum distributable amount stipulated in the applicable capital adequacy regulation, will depend in part on decisions made by the Issuer relating to its businesses and operations, as well as the management of its capital position. The Issuer will have no obligation to consider the interests of holders of the Bonds in connection with their strategic decisions and capital management. The Issuer may decide not to raise capital at a time when it is feasible to do so, even if that would result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event. Holders of Bonds will not have any claim against the Issuer relating to decisions that affect the capital position of the Issuer, regardless of whether they result in the occurrence of a Trigger Event. Such decisions could cause holders of the Bonds to lose the amount of their investment in the Bonds.

The Bonds are perpetual obligations with no specified maturity date

The Bonds are perpetual obligations of the Issuer with no fixed redemption or maturity date. The Issuer is under no obligation to redeem the Bonds at any time, except as set forth in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds, in any event, subject to the prior approval of the Swedish SFA. The holders of the Bonds will have no right to require the redemption of the Bonds except if a judgment is issued for the liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer.

The Bonds may be subject to substitution and variation without bondholders' consent

Upon the occurrence of a Tax Event or a Capital Event (each as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds), the Issuer may, at its option, subject to the permission of the Swedish SFA, but without any requirement for the consent or approval of the bondholders, substitute or vary the terms of the Bonds so that they remain, or become, Qualifying Capital Bonds (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds). Qualifying Capital Bonds are securities issued directly or indirectly by the Issuer that have terms not materially less favorable to the holders of the Bonds than the terms of the Bonds.

Any such substitution or variation may have adverse consequences for bondholders, dependent on a number of factors, including the nature and terms and conditions of the relevant Qualifying Capital Bonds and the tax laws to which a particular holder of the Bonds is subject.

No limitation on issuing debt

There is no restriction on the amount of debt which the Issuer may issue which ranks senior to the Bonds or on the amount of securities which the Issuer may issue which ranks pari passu with the Bonds. The issuance of additional debt by the Issuer may reduce the amount recoverable by the bondholders upon the bankruptcy or any liquidation of the Issuer.

Exchange rate risks and exchange controls

The Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Bonds in SEK. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than SEK. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of SEK or revaluation of Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to SEK would decrease (1) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Bonds, (2) the Investor's Currency-equivalent value of the principal payable on the Bonds and (3) the Investor's Currency-equivalent market value of the Bonds. Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

The impact of changes to the capital adequacy framework

In the aftermath of the global economic crisis, many initiatives for regulatory changes have been taken, including an overview of the capital adequacy framework.

To complement the CRR/CRD IV legislative package, the European Parliament and the Council of Ministers adopted the BRRD, which provides various measures for the resolution of failing credit institutions.

In particular, the dynamic nature of the regulatory capital and liquidity requirements of the CRD IV/CRR package may force the Issuer to allocate more risk-absorbing capital of sufficient quality and to set aside additional amounts of liquid assets. The BRRD could mean that an investment in the Issuer's regulatory capital instruments as Additional Tier 1 Capital is exposed to the risk that the Issuer's debt under those instruments will be written off (bail-in), rescheduled or further subordinated (for instance, by the swapping of debt to equity).

The determination that all or part of the nominal amount of the Bonds will be subject to the BRRD may be inherently unpredictable and may depend on a number of factors which may be outside of the Issuer's control. Accordingly, trading behaviour in respect of Bonds which are subject to the BRRD is not necessarily expected to follow trading behaviour associated with other types of securities. Any indication that Bonds will become subject to the BRRD could have an adverse effect on the market price of the relevant Bonds. Potential investors should consider the risk that a bondholder may lose all of its investment in such Bonds, including the principal amount plus any accrued but unpaid interest, in the event that measures having that effect are taken under the BRRD or otherwise.

No action against the Issuer and bondholders' representation

In accordance with the Terms and Conditions, an agent represents all bondholders in all matters relating to the Bonds and the bondholders are prevented from taking actions on their own against the Issuer. Consequently, individual bondholders do not have the right to take legal actions to declare any default by claiming any payment from the Issuer and may therefore lack effective remedies unless and until a requisite majority of the bondholders agree to take such action.

However, the possibility that a bondholder, in certain situations, could bring its own action against the Issuer (in breach of the Terms and Conditions) cannot be ruled out, which could negatively impact an acceleration of the Bonds or other action against the Issuer.

To enable the agent to represent bondholders in court, the bondholders and/or their nominees may have to submit a written power of attorney for legal proceedings. The failure of all bondholders to submit such a power of attorney could negatively affect the legal proceedings.

Under the Terms and Conditions, the agent will in some cases have the right to make decisions and take measures that bind all bondholders. Consequently, the actions of the agent in such matters could impact a bondholder's rights under the Terms and Conditions in a manner that would be undesirable for some of the bondholders.

Bondholders' meetings, modification and waivers

The Terms and Conditions includes certain provisions regarding bondholders' meetings. Such meetings may be held in order to resolve on matters relating to the bondholders' interests. The Terms and Conditions allow for stated majorities to bind all bondholders, including bondholders who have not taken part in the meeting and those who have voted differently to the required majority at a duly convened and conducted bondholders' meeting. Consequently, the actions of the majority in such matters could impact a bondholder's rights in a manner that would be undesirable for some of the bondholders.

Risks relating to the clearing and settlement in Euroclear's book-entry system

The Bonds are affiliated to Euroclear Sweden's account-based system, and no physical notes are issued. Clearing and settlement relating to the Bonds will be carried out within Euroclear's book-entry system as well as payment of interest and repayment of the principal. Investors are therefore dependent on the functionality of Euroclear's account-based system.

- (a) with equal right of payment ("pari passu") without any preference among themselves;
- (b) pari passu with (i) any obligations or capital instruments of the Issuer which constitute Additional Tier 1 Capital and (ii) any other obligations or capital instruments of the Issuer that rank or are expressed to rank pari passu with the Bonds, in each case as regards the right to receive periodic payments (to the extent any such periodic payment has not been cancelled) in the liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer and the right to receive repayment of capital in the liquidation or bankruptcy of the Issuer;

The Issuer reserves the right to issue further subordinated bonds and other subordinated obligations in the future, which may rank pari passu or senior with the Bonds, as well as additional share capital.

No Bondholder who is indebted to the Issuer shall be entitled to exercise any right of set-off or counterclaim against moneys owed by the Issuer in respect of the Bonds held by such Bondholder.

Interest cancellation..... Any payment of Interest in respect of the Bonds shall be payable only out of and up to the Issuer's Distributable Items and:

- may be cancelled, at any time, in whole or in part, at the option of the Issuer in its sole discretion and notwithstanding that it has Distributable Items or that it may make any distributions pursuant to the Applicable Banking Regulation; or
- will be mandatorily cancelled to the extent so required by the Applicable Banking Regulation, including the applicable criteria for Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments.

Following any cancellation of Interest as described above, the right of the Bondholders to receive accrued Interest in respect of any such Interest Period will terminate and the Issuer will have no further obligation to pay such Interest or to pay interest thereon, whether or not payments of Interest in respect of subsequent Interest Periods are made, and such unpaid Interest will not be deemed to have "accrued" or been earned for any purpose.

A cancellation of any payment of Interest at any time shall in no event constitute a right for any Bondholder to accelerate the Bonds.

Loss absorption upon a Trigger Event..... If at any time a Trigger Event occurs the Total Nominal Amount or the Issuer's payment obligation under the Bonds shall be written down.

A Write-Down shall take place on a date selected by the Issuer in consultation with the Swedish FSA (the "Write-Down Date") but no later than one month following the occurrence of the relevant Trigger Event unless, in accordance with the Applicable Banking Regulation, the Swedish FSA has agreed with the Issuer in writing that a Write-Down may occur after a longer period, in which case, on such date as agreed with the Swedish FSA.

A Write-Down shall be made either as a reduction of the Total Nominal Amount or by means of a pooling factor, where the Issuer's payment obligation under each Bond shall be reduced to a certain percentage of the Nominal Amount and in each case such Write-Down shall be considered to be an unconditional capital contribution (Sw. ovillkorat kapitaltillskott) and shall be made in consultation with the Swedish FSA and in accordance with the rules of the CSD.

The amount of the reduction of the Total Nominal Amount on the Write-Down Date shall equal the amount of a Write-Down that would restore the CET1 ratio of the Issuer to at least 5.125 per cent., and the CET1 ratio of the Issuer Consolidated Situation to at least 7.00 per cent., in each case at the point of such Write-Down, provided that the maximum reduction of the Total Nominal Amount shall be down to a Nominal Amount per Bond corresponding to SEK 1.00.

A Write-Down shall be made taking into account any preceding or imminent write-down of corresponding or similar loss absorbing instruments issued by the Issuer, including but not limited to Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments (other than the Bonds).

For the avoidance of doubt, the Nominal Amount of each Bond shall, upon the Write-Down of the Total Nominal Amount described above, be written down on a pro rata basis.

"Trigger Event" means if, at any time, the CET1 ratio of the Issuer or the Issuer Consolidated Situation, is less than 5.125 per cent., in the case of the Issuer, or 7.00 per cent., in the case of the Issuer Consolidated Situation, in each case as determined by the Issuer and/or the Swedish FSA (or any agent appointed for such purpose by the Swedish FSA).

"CET1 Capital" means, at any time, the common equity tier 1 capital of the Issuer or the Issuer Consolidated Situation, respectively, as calculated by the Issuer in accordance with Chapter 2 of Title II of Part Two of the CRR and/or any other Applicable Banking Regulations at such time.

"CET1 ratio" means, at any time:

in relation to the Issuer, the ratio (expressed as a percentage) of the aggregate amount of the CET1 Capital of the Issuer at such time divided by the Risk Exposure Amount of the Issuer at such time; and in relation to the Issuer Consolidated Situation, the ratio (expressed as a percentage) of the aggregate amount of the CET1 Capital of the Issuer Consolidated Situation at such time divided by the Risk Exposure Amount of the Issuer Consolidated Situation at such time.

Call Option..... Following the consent from the Swedish FSA and giving notice of early redemption in accordance with the Terms and Conditions, the Issuer has the right to redeem all (but not some only) outstanding Bonds in on (i) the First Call Date or (ii) any Interest Payment Date falling after the First Call Date.

Redemption Clauses The Bonds constitute perpetual obligations of the Issuer and have no fixed date for redemption. The Issuer may only redeem the Bonds at its discretion in the circumstances described herein. The Bonds are not redeemable at the option of the Bondholders at any time.

Early redemption upon the occurrence of a Capital Event If a Capital Event occurs prior to the First Call Date, the Issuer may, at its option, but subject to consent from the SFSA and giving notice of early redemption, redeem all (but not some only) outstanding Bonds on any Interest Payment Date.

"Capital Event" means, at any time on or after the Issue Date, there is a change in the regulatory classification of the Bonds that would be likely to result in the exclusion of the Bonds (in whole or in part) from the Additional Tier 1 Capital of the Issuer and/or the Issuer Consolidated Situation or the reclassification of the Bonds (in whole or in part) as a lower quality form of regulatory capital, provided that:

- (a) the Swedish FSA considers such a change to be sufficiently certain; and
- (b) the Issuer demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Swedish FSA that such change was not reasonably foreseeable at the Issue Date, and provided that such exclusion or reclassification is not a result of any applicable limitation on the amount of such Additional Tier 1 Capital contained in the Applicable Banking Regulation.

Early redemption upon the occurrence of a Tax Event If a Tax Event occurs prior to the First Call Date, the Issuer may, at its option, but subject to consent from the Swedish FSA and giving notice of early redemption, redeem all (but not some only) outstanding Bonds on any Interest Payment Date.

"Tax Event" means the occurrence of any amendment to, clarification of or change in the laws, treaties or regulations of any Tax Jurisdiction affecting taxation (including any change in the interpretation by any court or authority entitled to do so) or any governmental action, on or after the Issue Date and which was not foreseeable at the Issue Date, resulting in that:

- (a) the Issuer is, or becomes, subject to a significant amount of additional taxes, duties or other governmental charges or civil liabilities with respect to the Bonds; or
- (b) to the extent (prior to the relevant change, amendment or clarification) the Issuer was entitled to claim a deduction in respect of the Bonds in computing its taxation liabilities, it would not be entitled to claim a deduction in respect of its taxation liabilities in the Kingdom of Sweden in respect of any payment of interest to be made on the next Interest Payment Date or the value of such deduction to the Issuer would be materially reduced, provided that the Issuer satisfies the Swedish FSA that such change in tax treatment of the Bonds is material and was not reasonably foreseeable as at the Issue Date.

Call Option Amount.....	The Bonds shall be redeemed at a price per Bond equal to the Nominal Amount together with accrued but unpaid Interest.
First Call Date.....	Means the Interest Payment Date falling on or nearest to five (5) years after the Issue Date.
Acceleration of the Bonds....	Neither a Bondholder or the Agent have a right to accelerate the Bonds or otherwise request prepayment or redemption of the principal amount of the Bonds, except in the event of liquidation (Sw. likvidation) or bankruptcy (Sw. konkurs) of the Issuer.
Use of Proceeds	The proceeds from the issue of the Bonds shall be used for general corporate purposes of the Issuer.
Transfer Restrictions	The Bonds are freely transferable but the Bondholders may be subject to purchase or transfer restrictions with regard to the Bonds, as applicable, under local laws to which a Bondholder may be subject. Each Bondholder must ensure compliance with such restrictions at its own cost and expense.
Listing.....	Application has been made to list the Bonds on Nasdaq Stockholm.
Agent.....	Nordic Trustee & Agency AB (publ).

Issuing Agent	Carnegie Investment Bank AB.
Joint Bookrunners.....	Carnegie Investment Bank AB and DNB Markets, part of DNB BANK ASA, Sweden branch.
Governing Law of the Bonds.	Swedish law.

- (j) The Issuer may not effect a Write-Up in respect of the Bonds:
 - (i) if a Trigger Event has occurred and is continuing; or

- (j) The Agent shall give a notice to the Bondholders (i) before it ceases to perform its obligations under the Finance Documents by reason of the non-payment by the Issuer of any fee or indemnity due to the Agent under the Finance Documents or the Agency Agreement or (ii) if it refrains from acting for any reason described in Clause 19.2(i).

- (f) The Agent's resignation or dismissal shall only take effect upon the appointment of a successor Agent and acceptance by such successor Agent of such appointment and the execution of all necessary documentation to effectively substitute the retiring Agent.
- (g) Upon the appointment of a successor, the retiring Agent shall be discharged from any further obligation in respect of the Finance Documents but shall remain entitled to the benefit of the Finance Documents and remain liable under the Finance Documents in respect of any action which it took or failed to take whilst acting as Agent. Its successor, the Issuer and each of the Bondholders shall have the same rights and obligations amongst themselves under the Finance Documents as they would have had if such successor had been the original Agent.
- (h) In the event that there is a change of the Agent in accordance with this Clause 19.4, the Issuer shall execute such documents and take such actions as the new Agent may reasonably require for the purpose of vesting in such new Agent the rights, powers and obligation of the Agent and releasing the retiring Agent from its further obligations under the Finance Documents and the Agency Agreement. Unless the Issuer and the new Agent agrees otherwise, the new Agent shall be entitled to the same fees and the same indemnities as the retiring Agent.
